

Istanbul is acity with arich cultural and natural heritage. The preservation of this heritage and its future

In order for this heritage to be passed down to future generations, visitors must pay attention to some issues.

Rules of Conduct in Cultural Areas

- * Be quiet in museums and historical buildings and do not disturb other visitors.
- * Do not violate the privacy of other visitors when taking photos and videos.
- * Do not touch objects that are prohibited in museums and historical buildings.
- * Do not smoke or eat in museums and historical buildings.
- * Do not leave garbage in museums and historical buildings.

Rules of Conduct in Natural Areas

- * Help preserve natural areas.
- * Do not harm plants and animals.
- * Throw your garbage in the trash cans.
- * Do not light a fire.
- * Be quiet and do not disturb other visitors.

Detailed explanations of the rules:

Rules of Conduct in Cultural Areas

Be quiet in museums and historical buildings and do not disturb other visitors. In museums and historical buildings, There are usually rules to keep visitors quiet and to prevent them from disturbing other visitors.

The purpose of the rules is to help visitors get the best experience possible.

Do not violate the privacy of other visitors when taking photos and videos. Photography in museums and historical buildings and taking videos is generally permitted, but be careful not to violate the privacy of other visitors.

For example, ask permission when photographing people's faces.

Do not touch objects that are prohibited in museums and historical buildings. In museums and historical buildings, Items that are prohibited from being touched are usually marked. Touching these items may damage or destroy them. can.

Do not smoke or eat in museums and historical buildings. Smoking and eating in museums and historical buildings is prohibited. Eating is generally prohibited. These rules are to prevent damage to belongings and to prevent disturbance to other visitors. is for not doing.

Do not leave litter in museums and historical buildings. Leaving litter in museums and historical buildings is harmful to other visitors. It can create an unpleasant experience and cause damage to your belongings. Please dispose of your trash in the trash. throw them in the boxes.

Rules of Conduct in Natural Areas

Help preserve natural areas. Natural areas are important habitats for plants and animals. There are many things you can do to protect these areas. For example, throw your rubbish in the bins, plant and do not harm animals and do not light fires.

Do not harm plants and animals. Plants and animals are an important part of the natural world. Harming living things can disrupt the natural balance. Be careful not to harm plants and animals. Throw your trash in the trash cans. Leaving trash in natural areas can cause environmental pollution. Please throw your garbage in the trash cans.

Do not light a fire. Lighting a fire in natural areas can cause a fire. Therefore, lighting a fire is generally prohibited.

Be quiet and do not disturb other visitors. Natural areas are places to relax and enjoy nature. They are great places to unwind. Be sure to remain quiet so as not to disrupt the experience of other visitors.

Complying with these rules will help preserve Istanbul's cultural and natural heritage.